

The Case for the Defence- Part III.

Glossary of terms

To swear : to make a public promise that something is true.

Case : something that is being officially investigated.

Alibi : evidence that proves that somebody was in a different place at the time that a crime was committed.

Be acquitted: to be declared not guilty of a crime.

Listen and put the events in order.

	The prisoner was acquitted.
1	The lawyer for the defence asked the man at the back of court to stand up. His name was Adams.
	The police tried to get the twins to leave by the back door but they refused.
	Somebody from the crowd outside pushed one of the twins right in front of a bus. The twin brother was killed .
	Mrs Salmon looked at the man at the back and also at the prisoner . Both of them looked alike. They were identical twins. .
	Mrs Salmon left the Court.
	Mrs Salmon couldn't swear that the man she saw was the prisoner.
	The twin brothers left the court using the front entrance.
	Nobody knows if the twin brother that was alive was the murderer.

What do you think ? Some stories have an answer at the end . Some stories have an open end, that is to say, there is no answer. Did you like reading The Case of The Defence ? Did you like the way the story ends ? Why ? Why not ? . Don't write your answer here. Send us an e-mail with your answer.