Key:
The coloured countries are members of the European Union (EU).
The striped countries are planning to join the EU.
The other countries, including those shown by a small white circle, are neighbours of the EU.
The dots show where the capital cities are.
The Vatican City is in Rome.
Some islands and other pieces of land belonging to France, Portugal and Spain are part of the EU. But they are a long way from mainland Europe, so we have put them in the box (top right).
