

WORKSHEET (29.12.2021)

I. Using who/ which and the words given to make sentences

Example:

0. English – a subject – you learn at school

=> English is a subject which you learn at school.

1. Newton – a scientist – found gravity.

=>

2. Gravity – a force – pulls everything to the center of the Earth.

=>

3. Mr. Grant – an English teacher – teaches English very well.

=>

4. Simon – my best friend – likes Geography and I.T.

=>

II. Solve the problems

3. Jess ate $\frac{1}{3}$ of a cake, while Jack ate $\frac{1}{5}$ of a cake. In total, how much cake did these two eat?

The amount of cake these two ate is:

A. $\frac{8}{15}$

B. $\frac{2}{15}$

C. $\frac{13}{15}$

5. Dean buys 50 stickers and he gives $\frac{1}{2}$ of his stickers to Jack. How many stickers does he have left?

The number of stickers he has left is:

A. 45

B. 20

C. 25

III. Choose “who” or which”

1. Have you met the guy joined our class yesterday?
2. Has anybody seen the English book I left on my desk?
3. The car is parked in front of our house looks so comfortable.
4. Did you pass the exam almost all the students in the class failed?
5. Our new colleague graduated from Yale is so smart.
6. The golden watch was stolen was found yesterday.
7. The new robot my parents give me is my favourite toy.

IV. Make the sentences with the given words:

1. crazy/ the idea is/ , funny/ it is to try.

=>

2. cheap/ it is/ , much/ money you save.

=>

3. much/ time he spends with her/ , happy/ she becomes.

=>

4. hard/ you think/ , smart/ you get.

=>