Young blog writers

Tasha

Last year, I wrote for my college magazines, which I found really difficult, but I don't think it's hard to write a good blog. Mine is about things from daily life that make me laugh. My older brother also has a blog, but we're writing about different subjects. We don't discuss what we're planning but we read each other's blog sometimes. I like giving advice to people who write in asking for it – it's good to know I've helped.

Danni

I started writing my popular film blog because I love movies. I like it when readers send me articles by email about a film they've seen, I put these on my blog for everyone to read. I'm still at college, so I'm careful about spending too long on my blog, which is difficult as writing well takes time. I don't think I'll write it for much longer. I'm busy, and it's time to do something new.

Chrissie

I began writing in a school magazine. I stopped after a few years, but I missed it, so I started my own – I'm still writing it now! The blog's new to me, and I write about daily life. I get ideas from friends or my sister where I can decide what to write about – we always think of something interesting, sad or serious. At first, almost nobody visited my site, but now more do, I've had some lovely comments.

Starting at a new school

By Anna Gray, age 11

I've just finished my first week at a new school and I'd like to tell you about it. Like other children in my country, I went to primary school until I was eleven and then I had to go to different school for older children. I love my primary school but I was excited to move to a new school.

It was very strange on our first day. There were some kids from my primary school there, but most of the children in my year group were from different schools. But I soon started talking to the girl who was sitting beside me in maths. She lives near me so we walked home together. We're best friends now.

When I saw our timetable there were lots of subjects, some were quite new to me! Lessons are harder now. They're longer and the subjects are more difficult, but the teachers help us a lot.

At primary school, we had all our lessons in one classroom. Now each subject is taught in a different room. It was difficult to find the classrooms at first because the school is so big. But the teachers gave us each a map of the school, so it's getting easier now.

The worst thing is that I have lots more homework to do now. Some of it is fun but I need to get better at remembering when I have to give different pieces of work to the teachers!

14. How did Anna feel about moving to a new school?

- A. worried about being with lots of older children.
- B. happy about the idea of something different.
- C. please because she was bored at primary school.

15. Who has become Anna's best friend at her new school?

- A. someone from her primary school.
- B. someone she knew from her home area.
- C. someone she met in her new class.

16. What does Anna say about timetable at her new school?

- A. It includes subjects she didn't do at primary school.
- B. She has shorter lessons than she had at her old school.
- C. It is quite difficult to understand.

17. Why couldn't Anna find her classrooms?

- A. She couldn't read a map.
- B. There was little time between lessons.
- C. The school building is very large.

18. What does Anna say about the homework she has now?

- A. She gets more help from some teachers than others.
- B. She thinks it is the hardest part of school life.
- C. She remembers everything she's told to do.
