- 1 First of all, the tea is grown for three years.

- 2 Then it is picked by hand.

- 3 After that, the tea is left to rest either outdoors or indoors.

- 4 Next, it is put in a drying machine where it is dried for two hours. The temperature during this stage of the process should be just over 260°C.

- 5 After this comes the packaging stage. The dried tea is made into teabags and the teabags are put into boxes.

- 7 Finally, customers buy the tea when they are shopping.
