Use the words to fill in the blank spaces.

communication	global	many
services	information	network

A computer ..... is a group of computers and/or devices that are connected with each other for the purpose of communicating data electronically. The most well-known network in the world is the Internet. The Internet is a ..... network of networks that connects computer and devices worldwide.

Computer networks can be used by individuals and businesses for ..... applications. They enable ....., exchange of data as well as providing access to information, resources and ..... worldwide via the Internet. Some applications and services available on computer networks include:

- e-commerce
- e-mail
- file transfer
- video and voice telecommunications
- social media
- ..... and services from the world wide web

LIVEWORKSHEETS