

9 Self-study exercise

Listen to each conversation and put the lines in order.

Conversation one 17

- OK, I'll take two. And do you have nail clippers?
- Here you are. The aspirin is two forty-nine a bottle and the Band-Aids are three fifty a box.
- Well, I don't need it right now. I'll just take these.
- Excuse me, I'm looking for a toothbrush.
- Sure, right here. They're a dollar twenty-five.
- Oh, no, they're too big. Let's see, I also need aspirin and Band-Aids.
- It's four seventy-five.
- Yes, we do, over there. Ninety-nine cents.
- OK. Oh, how much is this baby powder?

Conversation two 18

- That's apple pie. It's six seventy-five.
- It's twelve fifty.
- I'll take a dozen doughnuts and a half pound of cookies.
- OK, the doughnuts are four fifty a dozen, and the cookies are eight dollars a pound.
- Excuse me, what kind of pie is that?
- Oh, that's too expensive. How about these cookies, and those doughnuts over there?
- Oh, sorry, I don't like apple. Can I have two loaves of French bread, please?
- OK, and how much is that large fruitcake?
- Sure, they're one twenty-nine a loaf.
