Cesar Chavez

Name: _____

Cesar was a Mexican American who grew up on a farm in Arizona. His family owned a farm and local grocery store. When the Great Depression hit, the hard times caused Cesar`s father to lose his farm. So his family packed up and left everything they owned. Soon after, the Chavez family became migrant workers and moved from farm to farm in California to look for work. They were really struggling. The conditions in the fields were rough and the farmers didn`t treat the workers like people. Chavez and his family had to work long hours with no breaks. Anyone who complained was fired. Chavez is known for working to improve conditions for farm workers.
