Rewrite the sentences as one sentence using a relative clause and a preposition.

(formal: the preposition is before the relative pronoun

Informal: the preposition is at the end of the sentence)

Example: Have you met Yoon, the new student? Pablo was talking to her. (informal)

➔ Have you met Yoon the new student who Pablo was talking to?

1. My neighbor has a massive new dog. I'm quite afraid of it (informal)

➔ My neighbor has _____

2. The professor visited several large colleges. None of them made him feel comfortable (formal)

➔ The professor visited _____

3. You should always eat regular meals. The most important meal is possibly breakfast (formal)

➔ You should always eat _____

4. Around ten o'clock, my mother has a cup of coffee. She adds low-fat milk to it. (informal)

➔ Around ten o'clock, my mother has _____

5. There's a new movie about the first space flight, I'm very interested in it. (formal)

➔ There's a new movie about _____

LIVEWORKSHEETS