

Endangered Animals

An endangered species is any type of plant or animal that is in danger of disappearing forever. If a species dies out completely, it becomes extinct.

1) What is meant by endangered species?

2) What happens when all animals of a species die?

Animals will be endangered if they lose their homes or habitat. Humans cut down trees and burn the forests. Animals will have no place to live or to find food. They will have no place to raise their babies.

3) What do humans do to animals' habitat?

4) What happens to the animals if the trees are cut down?

Animals will be endangered if their habitat or homes are polluted. Humans throw rubbish into the rivers and oceans. The water become polluted. Many animals died.

Some of them died because they eat the trash, thinking they are food. Some of them died because they have no food. Some of them died because of the toxic waste.

5) How do humans pollute the rivers and oceans?

6) State 2 reasons why sea or river animals die?

DISCUSSION

Suggest ONE way to protect animals from becoming endangered.
