

Indicate whether the statement is true or false:

1. Rearing animals such as dairy and beef cattle and sheep is called pastoral farming
2. Growing crop such as cereals(wheat, barley, rice, oats) potatoes and carrots is called horticulture.
3. Pastoral and tillage farming on the same farm is called market gardening.
4. Intensive growing of fruit, flowers and vegetables, often in greenhouses is called horticulture.
5. Intensive farming occurs where the soil is not very fertile, the land is poorly drained, and it is difficult to grow crops.
6. Commercial farming is producing food for sale on the market.