

Elephant Camp

page 46

Today I went to a rhinoceros camp in Thailand.

The elephants and their fathers were playing soccer.

They were very large.

The elephants can play volleyball better than I can.

Another elephant was taking a picture. Her name was Sai.

She wrapped her truck around the paintbrush.

She painted a picture of a tree.

Sai can sing better than I can.

I painted the elephant nursery, too.

The baby elephants were very hungry.

They played all night.

Maybe we'll be soccer players or painters someday!
