

A bass clef is positioned on a five-line musical staff. The clef's hook is on the first line, and its main curve descends to the fourth line. Two dots are placed on the second and third lines.

