

| (X) INCORRECT | (✓) CORRECT |
|--|--|
| ✗ Do you have a few orange juice? | ✓ Do you have any orange juice? |
| * "Any" is used with countable and uncountable nouns which appear in questions, "a few" is used with countable nouns only. | |

A Fill in the blanks with 'many' or 'much'.

1. Do not put too _____ sugar cubes in the coffee.
2. I have _____ toys in my room.
3. How _____ cloth does she need to make the dress?
4. There is so _____ smoke billowing out from the chimney.
5. There are _____ people in the stadium.
6. Hafiz drinks so _____ water after the game.
7. Do not put too _____ sauce in your porridge.
8. How _____ money does Aminah need to buy the dress?

B Fill in the blanks with 'a few' or 'a little'.

1. My mother puts _____ flowers in the vase.
2. The chef put _____ sauce to the fish.
3. There is only _____ time left for us to finish the work.
4. There are only _____ visitors at the museum.
5. I borrow _____ books from the library.
6. Haiful puts _____ shampoo on his hair.
7. _____ children are playing at the playground.
8. There is only _____ water left in the tank.

