4 Read about Sophia's weekend. What information about the clock is new?

Last weekend I went to Henley with my new friend, Megan. First, we went for a walk by the river. It was beautiful. Next, we went to a small museum and had lunch. Then, we went shopping and I saw a lovely clock. It was quite expensive (£150!), but I bought it and we took it back to London. It was really heavy! Henley is a nice town – it's very different from Toronto.

Look at part of Sophia's online post and read about making the order clear with first, next, then.

First, we went for a walk by the river. It was beautiful.*
Next, we went to a small museum and had lunch.*
Then, we went shopping and I saw a lovely clock.*

When we write about events in the past, it's good to make the order clear. We use phrases like:
- First, …
  First, we flew to Berlin.*
- Then, … Next, … After that, …
  After that, we took a bus to Claudia's village.*
  Then, we went shopping.*

We usually use Next for the middle event, not the last event.
First, we went to the zoo. Next, we had lunch. Then, we went shopping.

6 Choose the correct word

The weather was very bad! [1]Then, / First, it rained. [2]First, / Next, it was very windy. [3]Then, / After, it snowed!

[4]First, / Next, we camped in Anton's garden. [5]After, / After that, we stayed in a hotel.

Last summer I went to the UK with Sasha and Yuri. [6]First, / Then, we went to London. It was great. [7]Next, / First, we went to Scotland for three days. [8]After this, / After that, we stayed with Yuri's family in Cambridge.

7 Add the words and phrases in brackets in the correct place to make the order clear.

Example:
We visited Emma's family in the country. We went to the city (then, first.)
First, we visited Emmas family in the country. Then, we went to the city.

1. I went to a cafe. I went to the park. (first, after that)
2. It was sunny and warm. It was sunny and cold. (then, first)
3. We went to a restaurant. We saw a film. We went home. (next, first, then)
4. I finished work. I went for a walk by the river. I met Terry at the station. (first, after that, next)

8 Write an online post about a trip to another place.
Here are some ideas:

Last weekend / month / summer, I went to …. with…
First, we … It was… Next, we… Then, we…
is a nice / beautiful / lovely city / place.
