

Before you listen to the audio, read the text. Then, listen to the news and complete it.

A new report shows what _____ might be like in 100 years from now. It describes _____ that are much taller than today's buildings, _____ 'bubble' cities, and holidays in _____. The report is from Samsung's SmartThings. It asked experts on space, _____, and city planners to give their ideas on life in 2116. They said the way we live, work and play will be totally different to how we do these things _____. The experts said that 25 years ago, people could not imagine how the Internet and _____ would change our lives. The Internet has revolutionized the way we _____, learn and do daily things. The experts said the changes in the next century would be even more _____.

Researchers questioned 2,000 adults about the _____ they thought were most likely to happen in the future. They predicted that in the future, few people will go to an _____ but will work from home and have _____ work meetings. People will have advanced 3D _____ that will let you download a design for _____ or a food recipe and then 'print' the sofa, table or pizza at home. There will also be less need for visits to the _____. We will all have a home health _____ that will tell us what the problem is and give us _____. We will also be going into space for holidays and to get _____ that we have used up on Earth. A prediction that was _____ was whether people would still need to study _____.

<https://breakingnewsenglish.com/1602/160218-the-future-l.html>

And you? Do you think people will still need to study English in the future? Why (not)?

