JULES' UNDERSEA LODGE

Have you ever woken up to see a pair of angelfish looking at you outside your bedroom window? Have you ever dived 21 feet below the surface of the sea to reach your hotel? If not, then you've never visited Jules' Undersea Lodge! Named in honour of Jules Verne, author of the classic novel 20,000 Leagues Under the Sea, the Lodge is in Key Largo, Florida, and so far it is the world's only underwater hotel.

Staying here is quite an experience as guests have the opportunity to relax, do scuba diving and get to know the underwater world that so few of us have ever visited.

Edinburgh's Ghost Walks

Edinburgh has always been an ideal city break destination. Its impressive castle, numerous museums and galleries, top class restaurants and fabulous shops attract thousands of tourists every year. Yet, there is more to Edinburgh than meets the eye. Its narrow streets hold dark secrets of the city's past! Have you ever seen a ghost? If not, go on a spooky evening walk round the Old Town. Ghost tours have been a major attraction in Edinburgh for years. The best guides can take you on a latenight walk through dark alleys, underground vaults and deserted churchyards. Listen to ghost stories, watch the shadows dance, and explore the real nature of ghosts. When night falls in Edinburgh are you ready to meet its past?
