

4

Definite and indefinite articles: the, a / an

1 Complete the dialogues with a / an or the.

1

- A Excuse me. Where's _____ museum please?
- B It's opposite _____ hospital. Take _____ first right and turn left at _____ traffic lights. You'll see _____ large building on the right. _____ museum is opposite. It's got _____ orange sign outside.

3

- A Excuse me. How do I get to _____ New Theatre, please?
- B I'm sorry I don't know. There's _____ theatre in North Street, but I don't know what it's called. There's _____ tourist information office in _____ main square. I'm sure they will know. They can give you _____ map too.

2

- A Excuse me is there _____ post office near here?
- B There's _____ small one behind _____ town hall.
- A Where's that?
- B Turn left at _____ next corner and go straight on. Turn right at _____ first roundabout and you'll see _____ town hall. _____ post office is in _____ small square behind it.

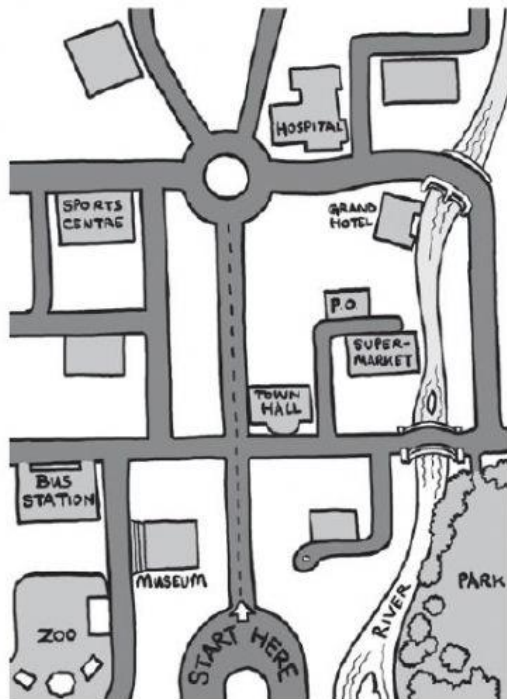

4

- A Excuse me. Can you tell me where _____ beach is?
- B Yes. Go straight on. You can see _____ sea from here.
- A Oh yes! Is there _____ car park near it?
- B No there isn't, but you can park in a lot of _____ streets.
- A Thanks. Have _____ nice day!

4

Directions

Student A ask directions for:

- the cinema
- the bank
- the police station

Use the expressions:

- Excuse me.*
- Is there a ...*
- How do I get to ...*
- Where's the ...*

Student B ask directions for:

- the museum
- the post office
- the Grand Hotel

Use the expressions:

- Excuse me.*
- Is there a ...*
- How do I get to ...*
- Where's the ...*

