Man and Animals
Cheetahs

Date: _____

A. Read the dialogue between two friends.

Is the number of cheetahs in the world going up or down?

Sarah : What are you giving your talk about next week, Max?

Max : I'm going to talk about the cheetahs of Namibia, a country in Africa. You know about cheetahs, don't you?

Sarah : I know that they were the fastest land animals in the world.

Max : That's right. They can run at 110 kilometres per hour. Well, the farmers in Namibia kill cheetahs. Unless we stop this, there will be no more cheetahs left.

Sarah : So, what must we do?

Max : Well, if we give the farmers very fierce guard dogs, the dogs will protect their sheep and goats. So, if the cheetahs can't kill sheep and goats, they will go into desert and catch young deer.

Sarah : Okay, I get the idea. But does your dog plan help?

Max : I think so. The number of cheetahs in the world is going up again.

Sarah : That's good news! But I can't help if I live in Brunei, Max.

Max : Well, you have more pocket-money than those villagers. So, if you give me some money for a guard dog, ...

Sarah : I get the idea. Good luck with your talk!
