

IT'S TIME TO LEARN ENGLISH

1. Fill in the gaps with the follow words.

Was allowed, wrote, worked, defender, language, forbidden, was born, gave, began, awarded, has dedicated and published.

Joana Raspall in Barcelona on July 1 in 1913, and died on December 4 in 2013. She was a Catalan writer and librarian and a great of the Catalan language.

There was a time when our language, the Catalan language, was strictly

But she was a great defender of our Thus, during the Spanish civil war, she as a librarian helping to save many books written in Catalan from destruction.

She also poems, prose and plays in Catalan that she kept at home and did not publish until the ban was lifted. She also Catalan classes at her home in order to keep our language alive.

Once the use of Catalan, she to publish books in Catalan, especially poetry and narrative for children and young people. She was a pioneer in Catalonia with the aim of bringing children closer to poetry and teaching them to love it.

His first book of children's poetry is "little poems for children". If you take a look at the school libraries in the poetry section in the literature section you will be able to see different copies by her.

Joana Raspall her life to keeping our language alive through written works. That is why she has been many prizes and acknowledgements, such as the “Creu de Sant Jordi distinction” in 2006.

