

First Conditional

1.- Choose the correct option to complete the sentence:

If they do the homework,

- I Would take them to the movies.
- I will take them to the movies.

I will give you a car

- if you graduate from college this year.
- if you will graduate from college this year.

If she fixes the TV,

- we can watch our favorite TV program tonight.
- We may will watch our favorite TV program tonight.

I won't go to school

- if it can rains tomorrow.
- if it rains tomorrow

If I attend dance class every day,

- I may become a really good dancer.
- I became a really good dancer.

My best friend will be quite happy

- if she won't get a new job.
- if she gets a new job.

If we meet on Saturday,

- we talked talk about our wedding.
- we can talk about our wedding.

If you practice English at least 1 hour a day,

- you will be fluent in 2 years.
- you be fluent in 2 years.

If you don't do the dishes,

- you won't go the party.
- you didn't go the party.

2.- Choose the answer using the words in parentheses.

Ejemplo:

If the weather (will be/is) fine tomorrow, we (will go/go) to the countryside for a picnic.

is will go

1) If it (will rain/rains) tomorrow, we (will stay/stay) at home.

2) If Mary (will get/gets) to work early, she (will have/has) time to finish the report.

3) Small shops (will close/close) if so many people (will go/go) to hypermarkets.

4) We (will visit/visit) the new museum if it (will not rain/does not rain) .

5) If you (will take/take) the top off, you (will get/get) the water out.

6) If you (will walk/walk) down this street, you (will find/find) the post office.

7) The paella (will not burn/does not burn) if you (will turn down/turn down) the heat.

8) If we (will leave/leave) now, we (will be/are) home in time to see the football match.

9) If Mary (will not like/does not like) the present, John (will buy/buys) something different.

10) My daughter (will finish/finishes) university by 2017 if she (will start/starts) this year.