We only have five _____. I wonder why. It doesn't seem a lot. We have the senses of smell, _____, taste, sight, and _____. Many people say they have a sixth sense. That's when you can sense things are happening that other people can't. Perhaps you can _____ into the future or talk to dead people. I'm not so sure this is a _____ sense. Of all our senses, I think the sense of _____ is the most important. It's the most _____ sense. I can't imagine not being able to see colors, or my children's happy, laughing _____ as they grow up. I'm not sure about my next favorite sense. Is it _____ or is it hearing? What would I miss most, tasting ice cream or _____ to music? That's a difficult one. I wonder if this is the same for everyone.
