2. Listen and read. 12

Princess Diana Frances Spencer was born in Norfolk, England on July 1, 1961. She was known as Lady Di. She grew up on a large state in Norfolk called Park House. When she was in school, she was really good at athletics, music, and art. She did not like math and science. She loved to help others. When she was older, she took a job as an assistant at a Kindergarten because she liked working with kids. She also worked as a babysitter for friends.

On July 29, 1981, she married Prince Charles at St. Paul's Cathedral in London. The wedding was broadcasted around the world. They had two sons named William and Harry.

Princess Diana was a supporter of various charities and worked to help the homeless, people living with HIV and AIDS, sick children and battered women. One of her major efforts was the battle against the use of landmines.

Princess Diana died in a car crash. She and her friend were trying to escape from the paparazzi (photographers who follow celebrities) in Paris on August 30, 1997.
