Once upon time, when drinking at the side of stream, a thirsty little ant fell into the water and got carried away. "Help, help. I cannot get out!" cried the ant.

Fortunately a kind bird, a dove saw that the ant is in danger. She plucked a leaf of tree with her beak and placed it on the water just in front of the ant. "Get on the leaf ant and I'll carry you to safety." said the dove. Then, the ant quickly climbed on the leaf and the dove immediately rose into the air with the leaf in her beak.

Some days later, when the ant was searching for food at the bottom of a tree, he suddenly heard a cruel looking man stalking forward the tree. He had a big gun, which he kept pointing up in the air, ready to shoot.

Autumn's Majesty

© Patricia L. Cisco; Published: September 2017

Sun with his artistic touch, streaks skies of blue with rosy blush, trimming Oak and Maple too, crimson reds with yellow hue.

Birch and Hemlock, purple and gold, apples, pumpkins bright and bold, burns by day and cools by night, cloaking trees in fiery might.

Wispy winds and tumbling leaves, cypress scents within the breeze, starry eves and harvest moon,
sets the stage for crickets' tune.

As spiders spin their tapestry and crickets sing in symphony, their final song of destiny, it's clear for all the world to see,
Autumn's vibrant majesty!
