A seam is a line of stitching used to hold two layers of fabric together. The plain seam is the standard seam used for most sewing. However, different seams can be used for a variety of purposes in sewing. Self-finish seams enclosed the seam allowances as the seam is stitched. Decorative seams may use topstitching or cording to create a special effect.

Self-Finish Seams.

Self-finish seams are used for a more attractive appearance or to strengthen the seam. They include the French seam, flat-felled seam, and double-stitched seam.
