

Rearrange the sentences:

So he took a canvas from his sister's room.

Mr Gill was passing by and saw the canvas.

She became very upset right away and threw rubbish on Mark.

Mark wanted to paint his bedroom 2 months ago.

When he finished, he took the rubbish and the canvas out.

He thought that it was a masterpiece.

When Sandra arrived home, Mark was painting his room.

He didn't have anything to put the paint cans on.

Mr Richards paid ten thousand Euros for the artwork.

Mark hid behind the canvas and the rubbish stuck in the paint.

She spotted the canvas with the cans – and she really doesn't like people borrowing her things.

He invited Mark with the painting to an exhibition in his gallery.