A HIPPO WITH A HEART

In cartoons, hippos seem funny and harmless. But actually, they are . However, there are some stories about hippos helping other animals. In 2017, Vadim Onishchenko was on safari Kenya. He saw an antelope leaving its and entering a watering hole alone. There, it was attacked by a crocodile.

Would the antelope become the victim of this fierce ? Suddenly, a group of hippos approached the crocodile, forcing it to drop its . One of the hippos helped the antelope get out of the water safely.

So, why did the hippos help the antelope? According to animal experts, the only way to explain this event is that the hippos wanted to scare the crocodile. Crocodiles don't attack adult hippos, but they sometimes attack baby hippos. Therefore, if the adult hippos want to protect their , they must make sure the crocodile knows which animal rules the watering hole!
