

Term 2 Graded WorksheetSubject: English Worksheet:*Date: 02/2022*Narrative Writing*Section 1: Select all of the options that correctly define each term: (15)*1. Exposition:

- A. Setting
- B. Introduction of Protagonist
- C. Mood
- D. Introduction of main problem
- E. Introduction of Antagonist

2. Conflict:

- A. Setting
- B. Introduction of Protagonist
- C. Foreshadowing
- D. Introduction of main problem
- E. Introduction of Antagonist

3. Rising Action

- A. Suspense
- B. Introduction of Protagonist
- C. Foreshadowing
- D. Introduction of more problems
- E. A minor problem is resolved

4. Climax

- A. Suspense
- B. The Protagonist Defeats the Antagonist
- C. Foreshadowing
- D. The Antagonist is punished
- E. The main problem is resolved

5. Resolution

- A. The Theme of the story is stated
- B. The Protagonist Defeats the Antagonist
- C. The Protagonist is rewarded
- D. The Antagonist is punished
- E. The main problem is resolved

Section 2: Match the words on the left to their definitions on the right (10)

Setting	More minor problems are added
Mood	The lesson we learn from the story
Protagonist	A feeling of excitement you get from stories
Antagonist	Time and place
Conflict	The feeling created in the story
Rising Action	The one who causes the main problem.
Climax	The moment the problem is solved
Foreshadowing	Main Character
Suspense	A clue about what will happen later
Theme	The ending where the theme is given
Resolution	Main Problem

Section 2: Indicate what kind of paragraph the following sentences would fit into by writing the name of the paragraph in the box below: (5)Your options are:*Exposition*Conflict*Rising Action*Climax*Resolution

1. In 1929, in a small town on the border of Russia there lived a young man called Khaled.

2. Sir Galahad slammed the shield given to him by the elves into the evil Mordred's throat, knocking him clean into the volcano below. At long last the war was over.

3. As punishment the wolf, with his stomach filled with rocks fell into a well as he was trying to drink some water. Children, remember the moral of this story- never talk to strangers,

4. All of a sudden another problem reared its ugly head. Every time Bibars would cut off one the hydra dragon's heads another two would sprout from the stump. Luckily Bibars still had his trusty lamp oil and torch. He soon found that if he burned the stump after cutting off a head, no new heads would emerge.

5. In the end all was well in the kingdom again. The brave knight Sir Galahad was rewarded with his own fiefdom. Evil Mordred's armies were scattered to the winds. Sir Galahad proved once and for all that good will always triumph over evil.
