

By _____

Today _____ something that scientists once only dreamed about came true: _____ astronaut went _____ in the spacecraft called _____. He _____ while millions of people waited anxiously for good news.

This amazing journey _____ in _____ took about _____ to complete. On board was _____ courageous astronaut: _____, a _____ year old _____ who has been training for months for this hazardous journey in space.

The world watched and waited for almost _____ while _____ was travelling at the speed of _____ around the Earth into the unknown space. His first words were: “_____”. It was almost incredible. A man was actually in space! The world heard him describe the Earth as a _____.

_____ then took photos of the Earth. After more than _____ in orbit, the spacecraft entered back into the Earth's atmosphere and prepared for landing. He _____ and using a _____ landed safely _____ where he was greeted by his co-nationals as a hero.

For the first time in mankind's history, men have left the Earth and entered the unknown space. They have looked at their planet from miles away. What was once a dream has actually happened.