Hello, Maggie!

Sorry I couldn't phone you last week. We had a lot of homework and an English test yesterday. Besides, my brother Phil had an accident, so he (1) go to school. This is what happened to him. He came home from school and (2) find his key. He (3) see that the bedroom window was open. Phil decided that he (4) climb up a tree near the window and get into the house. Unfortunately he fell down and broke his left leg and his right arm. Now he (5) go to school, as he (6) walk. And he (7) write because of his broken arm. But Phil (8) phone his friends and watch television all day. He wants to go to his friend's birthday party next Sunday. He says that he (9) dance, but he (10) eat lots of food — with his left arm!
