The legend of Jong Batu

When his ship arrived on the Brunei River, Dang Embun quickly paddled an old, small boat out towards his larger ship and shouted that she missed him. She called out her son's name. "Manis...Manis. Where are you son? I'm here to see you." He was very happy when he heard his mother's voice and looked forward to introducing her to his wife.

Now imagine yourself as Dang Embun (the mother). You reply the letter to your son Si Manis. However, the letter is incomplete, please complete it by filling in the empty spaces with suitable words below.
