SENSE OF TASTE

Your sense of taste lets you enjoy the different tastes of your food. Your tongue can detect sweet, sour, salty, savory, and bitter tastes. Ice cream tastes sweet because we make it with lots of sugar. Some foods, like honey, are naturally sweet. Lemon juice and natural yogurt taste sour. We can add sugar or honey to make them taste sweeter.

Food tastes salty when it has lots of salt. Many people add salt to foods like popcorn or French fries. Foods, like meat and cheese, have a savory taste called umami. This is a Japanese word. Coffee tastes bitter, so many people add sugar to make it sweet. Orange peel is also bitter, but we can make it into sweet marmalade.

A. Write True or False.

1. _____ We use our tongue to taste food.
2. _____ Ice cream is natural sweet.
3. _____ Yogurt tastes bitter.
4. _____ People don't like to add salt in popcorn.
