

AND

Once upon a time there _____ a man called Mister Morton.
He is the subject of our tale, and the verb tells what Mister Morton does.

Mister Morton _____ down the street,
Mister Morton _____ lonely and very shy, and he knew just one girl.

Mister Morton _____ to his cat,
The cat _____ and a neighbor _____ his kid.

Mister Morton wrote Pearl a poem,
Pearl _____ in the afternoon,

Mister Morton _____ on her door, and sat on her porch and _____ in a chair.
Mister Morton _____ a nervous man, when Pearl _____ up the door he ran.

Mister Morton _____ up his stairs,
Mister Morton _____ pretty words,
Mister Morton was lonely until Pearl _____ up with a single rose.

After that day Mister Morton _____ happy, and Pearl and the cat _____ happy too. And they lived happily ever after

Mr Bean

What did Mr Bean do?

He _____ with his toys.

He _____ with the doctor.

He _____ some food.

He _____ angry.

He _____ on the TV.

He _____ the chanels.

The cat _____.

He _____with the chair.

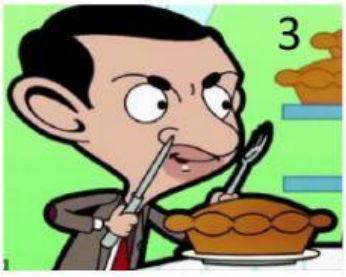

He _____ the Lady with the cake if she _____ some tea.

Drag and drop.

Mr Morton looked in the newspaper two hours ago. He read something amazing.	Mr Morton baked a pai last Saturday. He ate the whole pai because he was very hungry.	Mr Morton celebrated Teddy's birthday some weeks ago. He made paper hats.	Mr Morton rescued the goldfish from the cat yesterday. The cat was hungry and wanted to eat the fish.

4

