Day: _____ Endangered Animals Date: _____

A. Read the passage below and fill in the table to complete the information about these animals.

Animals	 Tyrannosaurus	 Panda	 Lion
Habitat
Animal group
Diet
Number

Tyrannosaurus was a large reptile that lived many years ago. Scientists believe that many tyrannosauruses lived in the northern part of American continent. Tyrannosaurus Rex is believed to have lived in forests, near rivers, and in areas that were open and full of prey (animal that is hunted and killed by another for food). They were carnivorous, meaning they ate mostly meat. Now, they are no longer living on earth because they are extinct.

High in dense bamboo forests in the misty, rainy mountains of southwestern China lives one of the world's rarest mammals: the giant panda, also called the panda. Only about 1,500 of these black-and-white relatives of bears survive in the wild. However, the population has started to increase slightly, thanks to breeding programs in China. Pandas eat almost nothing but bamboo shoots and leaves.

Living in the grasslands and open woodlands of sub-Saharan Africa, the lion is the second largest cat in the world. They belong to the mammals animal group. Lions usually hunt for meat at night. Their prey includes antelopes, buffaloes, zebras, young elephants, rhinos, hippos, wild hogs, crocodiles and giraffes. African lions are considered vulnerable of extinction with only around 20,000 in the wild.

B. Rearrange the words to make the correct sentences.

1. There / a lot of / the / in / wild. / are / not / pandas /

_____

2. many / the / There / are / in / lions / world. / not /

_____

3. not / There / any / nowadays. / is / tyrannosaurus / living /

_____

C. Read and fill in the blanks in the dialogue using the words in the box.

Pardon	explain	number	specific	dinosaurs	clarify
becoming	project	species	endangered	again	animals
sorry	No	danger	library	teacher

Farid: I'm bored, Kamal. Why don't we go to the cinema and watch "Spiderman No Way Home"?

Kamal: _____, let's not. We saw this film many times. Why don't we go to the _____? We have to finish our school _____.

Farid: Yes! That sounds a great idea. Our English _____ asked us to make research about endangered _____.

Kamal: I beg your _____! I didn't understand your point. What do you mean by _____ animals? Would you _____that, please?

Farid: Okay, let me _____ to you; endangered animals are animals whose _____ is so small that they are in _____ of extinction.

Kamal: Extinction? _____ I don't quite get your words. Could you be more _____?

Farid: Well, let me explain that differently. Millions of years ago, the _____ lived on earth for a long time, but they disappeared. They no longer exist in the world. You will never see them _____. They are extinct _____ of animals. Endangered animals like pandas, and white tigers are in danger of _____ extinct.

D. Fill in the gaps with words from the dialogue.

1. Kamel and Farid are talking about_____ animals because the teacher asked them to make a school project.

2. Kamel did not _____ some information, so he asked Farid to _____ the ideas differently.

3. Animals like _____ lived and disappeared millions of years ago. They are _____

4. There are not many _____ and _____in the wild. They are in _____ of extinction.

Name: _____ Class: Year 5 _____

LIVEWORKSHEETS