"The Inuit"
ESL Tests For Primary Kids

The Inuit live in a very cold place in North Canada. A lot of them live in an igloo. They built their house with blocks of ice. Their houses are very warm inside.

An igloo is very strong and it is easy to build. You need a knife - that's all! How many rooms are there in an igloo? There aren't many rooms, but sometimes the Inuit built big igloos with a lot of rooms for 15 to 20 people.

The Inuit eat a lot of fish, seals, whales and polar bears: they eat every bit of the animal and they use the skin for clothes to keep them warm in the cold weather and snow. There aren't any shops to buy food, so they have to hunt animals.
