Story:

What is happening?

Your mom takes your temperature you must stay home in bed all day. You eat soup and take medicine.
A man throws a brown ball. The crowd is cheering loudly. Players in helmets are running on the field.
You studied your facts. You only have three minutes to take it. You can only get two incorrect.
You have a piece of paper. You have a paintbrush and many colors of paint sitting in front of you on a desk.
Your little brother asks "Are we there yet?" Your car is filled with suitcases. Your parents look at a road map to see when the next turn is.
