READING

Read part of an interview that Pedro gave to a magazine. Then do the activity.

I've lived in quite a few countries, but I don't really remember them very well. Things were difficult for us, but they're better now. My parents have found good jobs and my sister and I are at good schools and we've got lots of friends.

Back in our country, Mum was a journalist. However, she couldn't find the same job here. She and Dad have done a lot of different jobs. Now, Mum's a teacher and she teaches Spanish.

My sister and I have always spoken Spanish and English. At school, the kids were curious about us at first. They used to ask us a lot of questions! I miss my country and I often go back to visit my friends and family. However, this is my country now. I'm happy here.
