HOT AIR BALLOONS

Have you ever seen a hot air balloon in the sky? Or maybe you've flown one? Hot air balloons have been around in some form for thousands of years but the first flight with people on board took place in 1783. It was performed by two Frenchmen in Paris and lasted about 10 minutes.

Hot air balloons can fly to great heights. On November 26, 2005, a man from India set the world record for the highest flight, reaching 21,027 metres. He took off from Mumbai, India and landed 240 kilometres south.

Hot air balloon flights and festivals are popular in various destinations around the world. Well known locations include Cappadocia (Turkey), Luxor (Egypt) and the Serengeti (Tanzania) but the biggest festival takes place in New Mexico (which is a state in the U.S.A.). It attracts over 500 balloons and more than 900,000 spectators every year.

1. Before 1783, there _____ people on board of hot air balloons.
2. The Paris flight was _____ long.
3. A man from India flew the hot air balloon _____ anybody else in the world.
4. The festival in _____ is the largest one.
