

Hello, I'm Tariq. I go to a very big school in the town where I live. There are more than eight hundred children at my school, so you can choose lots of different children to make friends with. We've got an enormous playground so there's lots of space to run around. And we've got things like a swimming pool, a football pitch, and a really big hall. Small schools don't have things like that. The only problem is that it can be very noisy sometimes, when we're all having our lunch at the same time. And when children start school, when they're only five years old, a big school can be quite scary.
My friend Rashid goes to a small school he likes it because it's really friendly. There are older children and younger children all together in the same classroom, so the older ones can help the younger ones. At his school, everyone knows everyone else!
But the playground in his school is tiny . There's not much space to play football.
