

AT THE HOTEL

1. Label the pictures with the correct word/s.

2. Drag and drop the names to their definitions.

Lobby

View

Wake-up call

Hotel manager

Bill

Check out

Guest

Reception / front desk

what you can see from the hotel window:
the land, sea, mountains, etc.

the large area near the entrance just when you walk into a hotel.

a telephone call from the hotel
that will wake you up at a certain time.

the person in charge of the hotel and the staff who work there.

the area in the hotel
entrance where you can book rooms or ask questions. The receptionist is usually behind a long table.

a person who is staying in a hotel.

a piece of paper with information about how much you have to pay for the hotel room.

when you go to the front desk and tell them that you're leaving. You often pay at this point.