How old will you be on Friday 13, 2029? That is how old you will be (12) _____ a large asteroid, called Apophis, comes very, very close to our planet. Asteroids are (13) _____ that circle the sun in space and sometimes come close to Earth and even hit it. Most asteroids are very small and, if you are lucky, you can sometimes see them in the night sky as "falling stars". However, most scientists believe one large asteroid, about six to twelve kilometers across, hit the earth and killed all the dinosaurs about 65 million years ago. Apophis is also big. Scientists discovered it in 2004 and they say that it is about 300 meters across. That's about the size of a large sports stadium. An asteroid this size, according to scientists, is not large enough to (14)_____our world, but it is large enough to destroy several cities. It will probably miss the earth, they say, but not by very much – it will miss ours by about only 35,000 kilometers – that's much closer than our moon which is about 240,000 kilometers away. Another way of thinking about it is that it will miss us by only a few minutes.

Read the following passage and mark letter A, B, C or D to indicate the correct answer to each of the questions from 17 to 21.

Education is another area of social life in which information technology is changing the way we communicate. Today's college students may not simply sit in a lecture or a library to learn about their field. Through their computers and the wonders of virtual reality, they can participate in lifelike simulated experiences and consider the following scenario of the future of education made possible through developments in information technology.

For children over the age of 10, daily attendance at schools is not compulsory. Yet, some of the older children attend school once or twice weekly to get tutorial support or instruction from a teacher. For the most part, pupils are encouraged to work online from home. Students must complete a minimum number of study hours per year; however, they may make up these hours by studying at home at times that suit their family schedule. They can log on early or late in the day and even join live classes in other countries. In order to ensure that each student is learning adequately, the computer software will automatically monitor the number of hours a week each student studies online as well as those students learning materials and assessment activities. Reports will be available for parents and teachers. The software can then identify the best learning activities and conditions for each individual student and generate similar activities. It can also identify areas of weak achievement and produce special programs adjusted to the students' needs.

Question 17: What is the topic of the passage?

A. Students don't have to go to school anymore.
B. Computer software will make sure students learn at home.
