4. Now read this note about the plural forms. Attention to the irregular ones!! Then use then complete the words in the chart to make the correct plural forms.

Word Work says... We usually add -s to a noun to make a plural. For example, two camels, three gorillas, four leopards.

When nouns end in a consonant and -y, the -y changes into an -i and we add -es. For example, three cities, two countries, four butterflies.

When a noun ends in -x, -ch, -s or -ss, we add -es. For example, two foxes, three witches, five buses, two dresses.

Some nouns have irregular plurals. Look:

one child → three children	one foot → two feet
one woman → three women	one mouse → four mice
one man → two men	one tooth → ten teeth
