No longer having to rely on 'chalk and talk', teachers can give pupils the opportunity to play a more active role in their own learning. This makes learning a more individual experience and students with different learning styles can take in knowledge more easily. This can motivate students [53] .

Nowadays students can learn individually or in groups to improve their skills. Using technology is said to develop students' critical thinking, cooperative learning [54] . Students can also learn at their own pace with the use of computers.

In other cases, schools have the resources [56] . Schools need to decide which types of technology can improve teaching to make learning [57] .
