How eco-guilty are you?

1. Read the text and write the correct headings

- Running water
- Getting around
- Shopping bags
- Recycling
- Buying fruit and vegetables
- Washing towels

I committed a crime last Tuesday, which just happened to be Earth Day*, a day that invites people to think about their eco-sins. I turned on the shower, intending to get straight in eventhough the water takes a while to warm up. Butthen I decided to brush my teeth, and suddenly the water had been running for over two minutes. By the time I got in, I was drowning ineco-guilt! I had wasted water.

1. I have a reusable shopping bag made of recyclable materials, which I always use when I'm shopping.

2. That reminds me, I must wash my towels!

3. I never leave the water running when I brush my teeth, nor before getting into the shower.

4. I never buy fruit and vegetables at supermarkets. I buy organic fruit and vegetables in markets or small shops.

5. I recycle all my newspapers, bottles, and plastic containers.

6. I walk, use public transport or cycle because cars pollute the planet.
