

Amy, Galo, Mummy and Daddy all went for a picnic in the countryside. They took their dog Junky with them. Galo walked him on a leash. The whole family walked up the hill. On the way up the hill they met a farmer. They stopped to chat with him about his work. They said good-bye and walked on to find a shady spot under a huge tree by the hillside

There Mummy opened the lunch bag and laid it on a tablecloth of the green grass. The cold food Mummy had prepared was delicious and all of them scraped their plates clean.

Galo's father helped with the packing while the children ran about. Soon it was time to go back home. Going downhill was quicker than going uphill. When they reached the main road, they caught a bus and sat talking to some school friend who happened to be on it
