

- What's the matter?
- I have....

1. Listen and say:

toothache	earache	a headache	a cold	a cough	a sore throat	backache	stomachache
-----------	---------	------------	--------	---------	---------------	----------	-------------

2. Match the pictures with the phrases:

to drink cold water
to wash your hands before meal
to use your phone too long to wear warm clothes
to listen to loud music
to eat too many sweets

First Conditional

If + present simple , ... will + infinitive

- It's used to talk about things which might happen in the future. Of course, we can't know what will happen in the future, but this describes possible things, which could easily come true.

3. Make First Conditional sentences: If you _____/don't _____, you will have _____.

If clause	+	Main clause
	+		If you drink cold water, you will have a sore throat.
	+
	+
	+
	+
	+

Modal verb " SHOULD / SHOULDN'T " with First Conditional

➤ SHOULD is a modal of advice. The meaning of MODAL SHOULD is a SUGGESTION.

4. Make First conditional sentences with "should/shouldn't":

1.	earache	listen to loud music
If you have earache, you shouldn't listen to loud music.
2.	a headache	take some medicine and sleep
3.	stomachache	see a doctor
4.	a sore throat	drink some tea with honey
5.	a cough	take some cough medicine
6.	toothache	go to the dentist
7.	cold	take some medicine and sleep

