6. Some animals have three stages while some animals have ☐☐☐☐ stages in their life cycles.

7. The ☐☐☐☐☐☐☐☐ of the life cycle of a living thing differs from one species to another.

Life cycle of a human

8. The life cycle of a human consists of three stages. They are the egg, young and adult stages.

9. A fertilised egg develops into a foetus inside the mother's ☐☐☐☐ until it is ready to be born.

10. A baby is born alive and ☐☐☐☐☐☐☐☐☐ the adult. The baby grows into an adult who is able to reproduce and the life cycle repeats again.

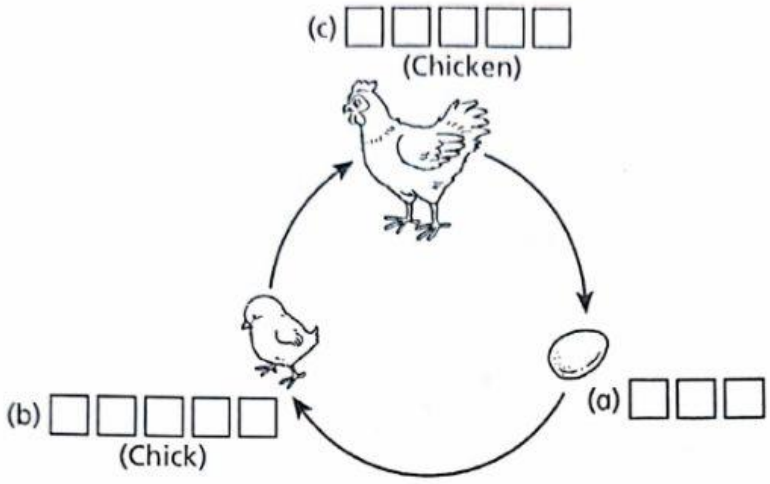

© Educational Publishing House Pte Ltd

Scanned with CamScanner
LIVEWORKSHEETS

1.2 Stages in the life cycles of some animals

Life cycle of a chicken

1. The life cycle of a chicken consists of three stages. They are the egg, young and adult stages.

2. The eggs of a chicken are laid on ☐☐☐☐.

3. A hen incubates the eggs by sitting on them to provide them with ☐☐☐☐☐☐.

4. Each egg has a ☐☐☐☐ shell to protect the developing chick in it.

5. The egg yolk provides the developing chick with ☐☐☐☐ and the chick will hatch from the egg three weeks after the egg was laid.

© Educational Publishing House Pte Ltd

Scanned with CamScanner
LIVEWORKSHEETS