

a)  b)  c)

a)  b)  c)

a)  b)  c)

a)  b)  c)

a)  b)  c)

a)  b)  c)

The diagrams show a flower with three parts labeled a, b, and c. Diagram a shows the pistil, which is the central part of the flower. Diagram b shows the stamen, which is the male part of the flower. Diagram c shows the ovary, which is the base of the pistil where the ovules are located.