

We observe today not a victory of (B1) ... (part) but a celebration of (B2) ... (free) symbolizing an end as well as a beginning, signifying renewal as well as change. For I have sworn before you and Almighty God the same solemn oath our forebears prescribed (B3) ... (near) a century and three-quarters ago. The world is very (B4) ... (differ) now, for man holds in his mortal hands the power to abolish all forms of human poverty and all forms of human life. And yet the same revolutionary (B5) ... (believe) for which our forebears fought are still at issue around the globe. The belief that the rights of man come not from the (B6) ... (generous) of the state but from the hand of God.

B7: There was once a very old man, whose eyes had become dim, his ears dull B8: of hearing, his knees trembled, and when he sat at table he could not hardly B9: hold the spoon, and spilt the broth upon the table-cloth or let it to run out of his B10: mouth. His son and his son's wife were disgusted at this, so as the old
B11: grandfather at the last had to sit in the corner behind the stove, and they gave B12: him his food in an earthenware bowl, and not even enough of it. And he B13: is used to look towards the table with his eyes full of tears. Once, too, his B14: trembling hands could not to hold the bowl, and it fell to the ground and broke.
B15: The young wife scolded him, but he said nothing and she only sighed. Then
B16: they brought him a wooden bowl for a few half-pence, out of which was he had B17: to eat. They were once sitting thus when the little grandson of the four years old began to gather together some bits of wood upon the ground.

B7: Like most offices, my office is a place where I can to concentrate on my work
B8: and feel comfortable at the same time. Of course, I did have all the necessary B9: equipment on my desk. I have the telephone on next to the fax machine on the B10: right side of my desk. My computer is in to the center of my desk with the B11: monitor directly in the front of me. I have a comfortable office chair to sit on and B12: some pictures of my family both between the computer and the telephone. In B13: order to help me to read, I also have a lamp near my computer which I use in B14: the evening if I work late. There is plenty of a paper in one of the cabinet
