

1

Listen and match.

Listen to a lecturer describing the stages of a plot.
Match the stages to their definitions.

Climax Resolution Falling action The beginning Rising action

- 1 This stage is the start of the story. The characters and setting are introduced.
- 2 Rising action In this stage, the main conflict or problem of the story is developed.
- 3 This stage is the main part of the story when most of the action takes place.
- 4 In this stage the characters start to overcome the problem or conflict.
- 5 This stage is the end of the story. Usually, the characters solve the problem they were facing or achieve their goal.